

Tax Advisors of the Year 2020 - Belgium

For those US citizens living abroad, it can be challenging to complete the tax and financial forms required for the US Department of Treasury. Carl Mir, of Mir Taxes LLC, takes the strain from those who want compliance as well as peace of mind. We take a look at this firm to see how it has achieved such success.

When a US citizen, or green card holder, moves to a foreign country, they still have to file tax returns and financial reports back home. Ensuring full compliance is no easy matter, which is where Mir Taxes comes in. The talented team ensures that clients meet all the necessary requirements through exceptional customer service in every regard.

Although created to provide US tax advice, the team at Mir Taxes work across Europe, with customers in Belgium, France, the UK and various other European countries. It's a truly international firm, with exceptional customer service drawing people in to take advantage of what is on offer.

The impressive level of customer service is what keeps the company moving forward, with the team exploring many exciting new avenues of operation. In this industry, the rules are constantly changing. This year, Congress has put new rules into place that have changed the way in which this information is handed in.

Keeping in constant communications with clients over issues such as these has been a major part of Mir Taxes success. The team have always excelled at customer service, with 24-hour call backs and email replies as well as monthly newsletters to update clients on what is happening in the world of finance. During March and April, the situation demanded many newsletters to be sent out, in order to reach as many people as possible with regards to the changing Congressional situation.

Of course, the team do their best to ensure that client file their returns in a timely and organized fashion, in order to avoid additional penalties and fees. In some cases, they will file an extension that allows their clients a bit of breathing room, submitting an estimated payment in place of the final sum. The team have proven that they can provide exceptional assistance to those clients who want to complete the "Streamlined Foreign Offshore Procedures". This process allows US Persons to become compliant by filing back years without penalties.

Providing information to the US Department of Treasury is never an easy task, often generating a great deal of stress. What Mir Taxes does is provide peace-of-mind, ensuring that all can produce the right information at the right time in a compliant manner. It really makes a difference to clients, knowing that a professional can support them in this often-challenging procedure.

The team also provide advice on other accounting concerns and financial services. Mir Taxes works closely with partnered firms to provide the best possible financial services recommendations on retirement planning, monetary foreign exchange needs, and smart investments. While the focus of the team is always on the delivery of compliance in tax returns, they are able to offer advice in a wide variety of different financial areas.

Mir Taxes provides a vital service to many, and does so in a way that ensures they can remain stress-free and fully compliant. It's an approach that drew many people to the firm before 2020, but in uncertain and unprecedented times has been a lifeline. The firm's continued success is a credit to the team's hard work – long may it continue.
